DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a semiconductor cleaning method, classified in class 134, subclass 26.
 - II. Claims 15-20, drawn to a semiconductor cleaning method, classified in class 134, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions of Group II and Group I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because it does not require the specific sequence of cleaning steps, as indicated in claim 1 of Group I. The subcombination has separate utility such as forming a semiconductor device.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. If the invention of Group I is elected, Group I contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the specie of the first cleaning solution comprising $\text{H}_2\text{O}:\text{H}_2\text{O}_2:\text{NH}_4\text{OH}$ solution, as exemplified by claim 7 and the specie of the first cleaning solution comprising $\text{H}_2\text{O}:\text{H}_2\text{O}_2:\text{HCl}$ solution, as exemplified by claim 9. The species are independent or distinct because they recite cleaning solutions having different (basic versus acidic) ingredients and therefore possessing different properties.

6. If the invention of Group II is elected, Group II contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the specie of the cleaning method utilizing a standard cleaning solution, as exemplified by claims 15-18 and the specie of the cleaning method utilizing $\text{HF}:\text{HCl}:\text{H}_2\text{O}$ solution, as exemplified by claims 19-20. The species are independent or distinct because they recite cleaning method utilizing solutions with different ingredients, thus possessing different cleaning abilities.

7. Furthermore, the standard cleaning solution of claim 15 contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the specie of cleaning solution comprising $\text{H}_2\text{O}:\text{H}_2\text{O}_2:\text{NH}_4\text{OH}$ solution, as exemplified by claim 17 or the specie of cleaning solution comprising $\text{H}_2\text{O}:\text{H}_2\text{O}_2:\text{HCl}$ solution, as exemplified by claim 18. The species are independent or distinct because they recite cleaning solutions having different (basic versus acidic) ingredients and therefore possessing different properties.

8. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 15, 19 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

9. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
